

Connections Matter in Early Childhood

Connections Matter in Early Childhood explores how the connections we make in life impact our brain development and resilience. This training will teach participants the skills to enhance their abilities to provide safe, compassionate environments for children that promote the child's sense of self and connection with others. The training will focus on Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs), trauma, brain development, resilience, and how caring connections serve as a primary buffer in the negative effects of trauma. This training will also focus on and discuss Attachment Theory, secure attachments, and the importance of attachment-promoting behaviors.

join the
 community
 attend a training

Providers will receive 4 HHS approved training hours. Register at I-Power Training Registry.

Times: 5:30 - 9:30 PM

- |                        |                          |
|------------------------|--------------------------|
| Dates: Sept. 25 | register |
| Oct. 23                | register |
| Nov. 13                | register |
| Dec. 11                | register |

or contact Martha Comfort
 at mcomfort@pcaiowa.org
 or 515.244.2200 ext. 8