

APRIL 2025 ONLINE LEARNING

FOUR Trainings in April (times vary)

Attend all four meeting to be in the drawing for a $50 TARGET CARD

Register with Pam Bettger: pambettger@gmail.com

Training Schedule

Wednesday, April 2, 3:30-5:30pm

Nurturing Healthy Sexual Development

Wednesday, April 9, 11-1pm

Keeping Youth Safe on the Internet

Wednesday, April 16, 3:30-5:30pm

Overcoming Barriers to Protecting
Children from Sexual Abuse

Wednesday, April 23, 4-6pm

Technicool: Keeping Kids Safe on the Internet

Nurturing Healthy Sexual Development

Featuring:

- Different stages of child sexual development
- Concerning Behaviors
- Ways to respond to our kids behaviors

After attending this training, adults gained insights and relief to recognize normal child development

These trainings are sponsored by

Keeping Youth Safe on the Internet

There are all kinds of digital risks: online grooming, in-person grooming facilitated by digital communications, sexting and online pornography. We also look at the legal consequences for minors engaging in consensual or non-consensual sexting. Participants will learn strategies to keep youth safe online, learn ways to handle youth exhibiting concerning behaviors, identify supports when youth encounter unwanted behaviors online and resources to take down unwanted images online.

Overcoming Barriers

Featuring:

The importance of child sexual abuse prevention

Being trauma-informed

Range of behaviors in adults from healthy to concerning/abusive

Barriers and action steps

Addressing adults' concerning behaviors

Grooming and boundary violations

Technicool: Keeping Kids Safe on the Internet

There are multiple kinds of digital risks for children today, such as internet pornography, online groomers, and sexting. It is important for adults to have the information and tools to respond.

This training features:

Digital risks to children online

Strategies to keep children safe in digital environments

Strategies for dealing with children exhibiting concerning digital behaviors.

Register with Pam Bettger: pambettger@gmail.com

Pam Bettger has worked 20 years as a child sexual abuse preventionist. These training are informative and provide practical applications to enhance working with families and children.